Negotiations On Transit Strike Being Resumed

Philadelphia Conferees Are Now Reported As Making Some Concessions

TAXICAB DRIVERS STRIKE IS ENDED

By TOM R. BRISLIN
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 18.—Philadelphia's transit officials and employes debated to within six cents of a settlement today of the strangling strike on the city's trolley, bus and subway lines.

PTC negotiators upped their wage rise offer from three cents to seven cents. Spokesmen for the CIO Transport Workers Union yielded in their demands from 17 cents to 13 cents.

Early Peace Not Seen

After six hours of negotiations at city hall under the guidance of Mayor Bernard Samuels, however, peace remained only a hope. No time was set for a resumption of negotiations today.

Although Michael J. Quill, International TWU president said the company's latest offer was not enough. Andrew J. Kaelin, president of Local 234, said that he and Quill are "going to contact the key people and get their feelings" regarding it.

Kaelin said no general membership meeting was contemplated at this time.

Taxi Strike Ended

The transit tie-up in the nation's third largest city was eased somewhat by the return to work of 3,500 striking taxicab drivers, who were told by their union president to "report or be fired." Cab service rolled at a normal pace last night following a three-day stoppage.

Businessmen pointed out, however, that the continuing transit strike has cut down the volume of sales in department stores and other mid-city shops by an estimated 50 per cent.

Taxi Drivers Return

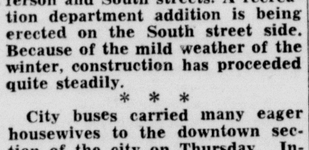

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 18.—(INS)—Restored taxicab service eased somewhat the transit worries of strike-bound Philadelphia today.

Some 3500 drivers of the Yellow Cab Co. ended their three-day wildcat strike last night upon orders of Charles Pirolli, president of the AFL taxicab drivers union.

Pirolli said the stappage had to end before negotiations could be resumed with the cab firm. Some 300 independent drivers also went out with the Yellow Cab men.

Western U.N. Leaders Determined On Return Of Trieste To Italy

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Feb. 18.—The U. S., Britain and France are determined to return Trieste to Italy in order to forestall a possible communist coup.

Soviet Delegate Yakov Malik is equally insistent that the free territory statute remain in force and has asked for another meeting of the security council early next week to consider selection of a governor.

In pinning blame on the west for the two-year delay and accusing the three western powers of violating the peace treaty by seeking to return Trieste to Italy, Malik disclosed in the security council that his government approves Swiss Colonel Hermann Flueckiger as Trieste governor.

Move Too Late

The Russian stressed that Flueckiger, who served as Swiss minister to Moscow until 1948, was proposed originally for the post by Britain. But Britain, the United States and France jointly proposed in a note to Moscow a year ago that Trieste be returned to Italy.

In rejecting Malik's offer to ap-

Truman Veto Is Seen If Pension Bill Is Passed

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—(INS)—President Truman will veto the veterans pension bill sponsored by Rep. Rankin (D) Miss., if congress approves the measure.

This was disclosed today by administration leaders in congress who stated that the president would have no other course left to him.

They pointed out that the legislation, which would give veterans of World Wars I and II monthly pensions of $90 at age 65, is not in accord with the president's budget and termed it highly inflationary.

The Democratic spokesmen, whose names could not be revealed, are not convinced that the legislation will be approved by congress, but if it is they said the president will veto it.

Mr. Truman has not expressed an opinion publicly on the controversial legislation which the house veterans committee approved Wednesday. However, Veterans Administrator Gray advised the committee that it is not in accord with the president's program.

House Democratic leaders, meanwhile, sought a way to block passage of the bill, whose peak cost been estimated by the Veterans Administration at six billion dollars a year.

Close Border Of Siam To Combat Menace Of Reds

BANGKOK, Feb. 18—(INS)—Siam proclaimed today a nationwide state of emergency and closed the Malayan border to "combat the growing communist menace."

Premier marshall Pibul Songkram said his government was concerned over "communist infiltration" in Malaya and said it had agreed to a British request for sealing the Siam-Malayan frontier.

Songkram also charged that Ho Chi Min, Viet Nam leader fighting the French in Indo-China, had "definitely joined hands" with Chinese communist chieftain, Mao Tse-Tung. The premier based his claim on word received from Paris.

He warned, in proposing the emergency action, that Siam might be involved in Civil war as in China and Burma.

Winter Keeps Up Strong Attack In Wyoming Area

DENVER, Feb. 18.—(INS)—Winter poked an icy finger along the backbone of the northern Rockies today and sent new chills into the hearts of western livestock growers.

This year's old story of blowing and drifting snow was repeated in Wyoming. New falls of snow, accompanied by strong winds, were described by the Denver weather bureau office as threatening to spread by tonight into northern Colorado and western Nebraska. It will be colder in northwestern Kansas.

In Montana a cold wave swept the state, following thawing weather in many sections.

Two weeks of strong wind and blowing snow left food and fuel supplies dangerously low at Casper, Wyo. Snowbound Rawlins, Wyo., had a road open to Laramie, and the Rawlins airport still was open.

Truman Says His Tax Boost Is Necessary

President Says He Has No Intention Of Modifying His Program

STANDBY CONTROLS ARE STILL DEMANDED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—(INS)—President Truman placed new emphasis today on the need for a sound American economy to prevent war.

The chief executive topped his new demands for a four billion dollar tax increase and anti-inflation controls with a warning that the nation's economy "must be maintained at its highest possible level . . to bring about permanent peace."

Mr. Truman asserted that "a strong and economically stable United States is the surest guarantee for the perpetuation of a society of free and unfettered people and nations."

These views were expressed in a statement to the biennial congressional dinner of the Veterans of Foreign Wars after the president discussed the economy situation at his news conference.

Tax Boost Needed

The president insisted his tax boost is necessary, declared that recent price breaks mean only a general leveling off in business and said he has no intention of modifying his request for standby anti-inflation controls.

In his VFW statement, Mr. Truman said that because of its victories in World Wars I and II,

Execute Four In Shanghai

Firing Squads Give Summary Enforcement To Orders Of Garrison Commander

THREE OF EXECUTED WERE STRIKE LEADERS

SHANGHAI, Feb. 18.—(INS)—Summary firing squad executions of four men—one of them a wounded nationalist soldier shot in full view of several hundred persons—created grim tension in Shanghai today.

The public on-the-spot execution of the civil war veteran was carried out late last night in front of a downtown theater where a riot had taken place.

Strike Leaders Executed

Earlier in the evening, three alleged ringleaders of a three-day-old bus strike were put to death before a Chinese government army firing squad. Shanghai's union leaders voiced bitter resentment.

The four "drumhead" executions were the first such incidents since Shanghai became a "front-line city" and was put under martial law which forbids strikes and public assemblages.

The executions were conducted by order of Shanghai's garrison

Excessive Rain Bringing Peril To Northwest

PORTLAND, Ore., Feb. 18.—(INS)—The northwest reeled today under the effects of a torrential rainstorm that caused hundreds of landslides, indirectly took two lives and sent streams over their banks in many localities.

Traffic snarled by earlier snowstorms and melting weather was further disrupted by the rain and the resulting slides.

The Columbia river highway was closed by a landslide at Latourell Falls, 35 miles east of Portland. All east-west highways over the Cascade mountains in Washington remained closed by snow and landslides. A sharp drop in temperatures lessened the danger of a general flood.

The victims of the weather were Mrs. Ray Brown, 39, who was killed when a landslide crushed her home at Port Angeles, Wash.; and Clair Miller, outboard motor dealer, who died of a heart attack as he helped evacuate families from flooded areas north of Tillamook, Ore.

Mrs. Brown's husband and their young son escaped the slide.

Consider Terms For U.S. To Enter Security Pact

Secretary Acheson And Senate Committee Consider Atlantic Alliance

By JOHN A. REICHMANN
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—Secretary of State Dean Acheson will consult today with the Senate Foreign Relations Committee on the precise terms under which the United States may enter the proposed North Atlantic Security Alliance.

Acheson planned to go before the committee with a series of texts of the pact which have been under consideration since last July.

It was then that the envoys of the United States, Canada, Britain, France, the Netherlands, Belgium and Luxembourg began discussions on the agreement.

Critical Issue

During the seven-month period top diplomats and technical experts of the countries concerned have sought to evolve an agreement which would give Europe a sense of security without infringing on the congressional prerogative of declaring war.

In the present draft, the agreement provides only that an attack against one signatory of the pact will be considered an attack against all. Members are bound to give all assistance possible to the attacked power.

The wording is such, however, that questions have arisen on a

U. S. Minister Chapin Says Kremlin Rules

Returning U. S. Minister Reveals Situation Existing Inside Hungary

SAYS CONDITIONS HARD TO DESCRIBE

By JOHN E. LEE
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

PARIS, Feb. 18.—U. S. Minister Selden Chapin charged today that Hungary is under "the total domination of a group of Moscow trained Communists whose sole allegiance is to the Kremlin."

The American diplomat, whose recall has been demanded by the Budapest government told a Paris news conference:

"No one except the blind and the twisted can fail to see this. I can say that unless a person has actually lived in Hungary or any other iron curtain countries, and learned from personal observations . . . he cannot possibly conceive what life is like.

Defies Description

"I cannot tell you because the truth is beyond imagination and defies description."

Chapin's departure from Hungary was a sequel to the trial and life imprisonment of Josef Cardinal Mindszenty. Hungary first expelled two lesser legation officials, and then asked for Chapin's recall. The government had accused the latter of dealings with the cardinal, who allegedly sought to overthrow the Communist-controlled regime.

Referring to the charges that he and his associates had plotted against Hungary, Chapin said:

Deliberate Lies

"The various charges levelled at me by the so-called Hungarian government and the Communist-controlled Hungarian press . . . are deliberate, fabricated lies, beneath contempt."

Statements by President Truman and Secretary of State Acheson, which condemned the cardinal's trial as "infamous" and "shocking," were termed "restrained" by Chapin.

He said that the comments by the President and the ranking cabinet officer "reached a large number of people in Hungary, and

Red Troops Move North Of Nanking

NANKING, Feb. 18.—(INS)—Some 30,000 Chinese communist troops were reported on the move today just north of Nanking and observers felt an attempt to seize a bridgehead across the Yangtze was in the making.

The reported break in the 20-day lull in China's civil war brought a new threat to the forsaken capital city. All top nationalist officials excepting acting president Li Tsung-jen have fled south.

Peace prospects remained dim. The communists still had given no sign of responding to Li's endeavors to get them around a conference table.

Little more than a score of miles from Nanking the reds were deploying a vanguard striking force of more than 10,000 men, according to the Central Daily News.

State Officer Is W.C.T.U. Speaker

City Unions Have Winter Institute On Thursday In Y.W.C.A.

Women's Christian Temperance Unions of New Castle assembled for an institute Thursday in the Y.W.C.A. Mrs. F. J. Fox, county president, opened with prayer, while Mrs. Floyd Worrell, county-president, led in saluting the flag.

The morning session began at 10 o'clock with the afternoon assembly opening at 1:15 o'clock.

State Vice-President Speaks

Mrs. E. O. Leonhard, state W.C.T.U. vice-president, Pittsburgh, who spoke in the afternoon, understands problems of local unions, as she still is a local member. She quoted Dr. R. Martin's report that 1,000,000 drinkers are dying every year, but the liquor interests are not worried, for they are successful in recruiting more than that many new drinkers each year among young folks just out of high school.

Mrs. Leonard stressed the officers' duties, closing with the thought that together we may "go forward" in protecting our homes as well as our boys and girls.

Rev. Henry Payden, St. Paul's Baptist church, closed devotions by singing two selections with Miss Evelyn Bernine as accompanist.

Dr. R. R. Blews, Sharon, spoke on "Alcohol Education," stating that training youth is vital to any country and citing what has been done to educate young people of Russia and Germany in conforming with leaders' ideas. As the liquor industry conducts a positive well-organized program of propaganda, the temperance forces must use any means at their disposal in educating youth for total abstinence.

Mrs. Harry Glover, Mrs. Ward Sizer and Mrs. Willis Albern served as ushers for the offering. Mrs. Rev. Lorena Maynard closed with prayer.

Morning Session

Using "Home Protection" the institute's theme, Rev. Maynard led devotions in the morning. Our national thinking used to be influenced largely by the religious press, the Sunday pulpit, little red school house and the home, but now these influences are nearly all supplanted by others not so desirable. Home ties must be strengthened so that youth may be made strong.

Reports were made by the following county directors: Mrs. Worrell, soldiers and sailors; Mrs. Glenn Hennon, amethyst beverages; Mrs. Clarence Aiken, "Union Signal," and Mrs. D. W. Nesbit, legislation. Mrs. Q. E. Davy offered the noontide prayer.

Box Luncheon

Mrs. A. C. Allen and her committee of Highland union served coffee for the box luncheon at noon. Mrs. Henry J. Kenehan, Scotland union, was responsible for registration.

Mrs. John R. Hanford, president of New Wilmington union, and Mrs. Scott Kirk, president of East Brook W. C. T. U., were special guests.

Meanwhile, four Yellow Cab Co. operators were under indictment by the all-women February grand jury for allegedly assaulting a motorist accused of hauling paying passengers last Wednesday.

Police sought a fifth suspect reportedly named by the others as the man who struck Clair Reed, Jr., 33, with a tire iron. Reed, already partially blind in the right eye, may lose vision in his left.

pointment of Flueckiger, the three western delegates promptly replied that it is too late in view of the changed circumstances effected by Yugoslavia's threat to the free territory. Others of the 11-nation group did not speak, although there is little doubt that with the exception of the Ukraine, they side with the three western powers.

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Feb. 18.—(INS)—Boyd F. Hanks, 48, of Johnstown was killed today when he was struck by a Pennsylvania Railroad train at the Conemaugh yards. Hanks, a brakeman, apparently lost his footing as he climbed on a train. Six cars passed over his body.

Replacement Of Worn-Out Schools Will Be Studied

During a discussion by school board members at their recent meeting Director Daniel Woolcock recommended that a committee be appointed to study the proposal of replacing "worn out school buildings", such as Oak street, Lincoln-Garfield and North street structures.

He said that if there were new structures built it may be possible to combine some grade schools.

Mr. Woolcock said that because of over-crowding and the physical conditions, there is need of re-construction.

commander, Gen. Chen Ta Ching.

The soldier met death while backed up against the front of the theater where he and several buddies—all convalescent civil war fighters—had tried to get free admission.

Denied admission by military police stationed at the theater, the soldiers surrounded the place. They carried guns, clubs and hand grenades. They fired several shots. Some civilian passersby were wounded.

Police Rush To Scene

Police reinforcements were rushed to the scene. Ten of the soldiers were arrested.

The police fired shots into the air to disperse a great crowd which had gathered along Shanghai's broad avenue Edward the Seventh in front of the Kung Wu Tai theater.

Armored cars were trundled up and the area was blocked off.

Then from Gen. Chen Ta Ching personally came the order to execute one of the arrested soldiers on the spot.

The firing squad was lined up. The unlucky soldier was forced to stand against the theater's front wall and a volley of shots ended his life as hundreds of shocked spectators looked on.

Audience Unaware

Inside the theater the audience, watching the rendition of an old-fashioned Chinese opera, was completely unaware of the real-life drama going on outside.

The three strike leaders were put to death a few hours earlier.

They faced their executioners only 12 hours after their arrest. Six other strike leaders were given prison terms.

Military authorities said the drastic action was taken as a "'deterrent" to any other labor leaders who might seek to launch strikes while Shanghai is threatened by communist armies not far away.

TRUMAN SAYS HIS TAX BOOST IS NECESSARY

America has fallen heir to "an ever increasing and unparalleled responsibility" in world leadership. He added:

"In this crucial period of world history, the economy of this nation must be maintained at its highest possible level in order to insure the stability of purpose, understanding and mutual cooperation that we, as a nation inaugurated and subscribed to in the United Nation's charter.

"The challenge of today is to bring about permanent peace in the world so that all men and women everywhere may live without fear of enslavement and death, in an invironment of friendship and freedom."

In his news conference, Mr. Truman struck at published reports that he would modify his tax-increase request. The reports arose from his suggestion that the House Ways and Means committee take up social security legislation ahead of the tax matter.

A full course spaghetti dinner will be served. Alderman B. J. Biondi will be toastmaster on this occasion, and vice president, Nicholas Casalandra will give the invocation.

Joseph A. Clavelli, past president is slated to be the principal speaker.

The Panther club was organized September 27, 1940, by Mr. Ricciardi, who became the founder and also accepted the office of secretary of finance, being a diligent worker. Through his effort the club has attained prominence in position in this city and today it is one of the leading civic and social local groups.

In his early youth day, Mr. Ricciardi was well known by those who followed baseball. As Tony C. Richards then he founded the New Castle's well-known semi-pro baseball club, the I.A.A. in 1899 which played into prominence until 1924. In the 25 years' span he was manager for 18 years, president for two years and business manager for five years.

Immediately after the testimonial, the installation of officers will take place. Joseph Clavelli will be installing officer.

The committee in charge includes general chairman, Anthony Cioffi, Joseph Clavelli, Daniel DeCarlo, Joseph Punio, Joseph Panella and William Cubellis.

U. S. MINISTER CHAPIN SAYS KREMLIN RULES

had a good, heartening effect on the Hungarian people." Chapin added:

"If free elections were possible tomorrow, anti-Communists would be returned to office." He said that the pro-Communist percentage—in the event of honest elections—would be less than in many western countries.

Draped By Red Banners

"Sixty days out of the year, the whole town (Budapest) is draped with streamers and banners. Red banners with the hammer and sickle now predominate whereas a year ago, Hungarian colors predominated."

The minister, his wife, and his secretary, Patricia McCarthy of Syracuse, N. Y., will sail aboard the Queen Mary tomorrow. Chapin will proceed to Washington for consultations with the State department.

The minister declared that the entire Hungarian Catholic clergy supports Cardinal Mindszenty, but added that "some do not dare to say so."

He asserted that with the departure several days ago of Istvan Barankovics, Hungarian Catholic leader, "the last remnant of political opposition to the Communists" left the country.

N.S.A. ENJOYS "BACKWARD" PARTY

A novel and most entertaining party-meeting of the year was held by National Secretaries Association, Thursday evening when secretaries participated in a "backward" party, with Miss Virginia Iacobucci, of 1012 Summit street as charming hostess.

From the start the girls entered into the party-spirit whole-heartedly, and came attired with their clothes worn backwards. Entering through the back door saying "goodbye" first instead of "hello" were a few of the rules of this party which evoked a lot of gaiety and fun. When not complying with the rules, the secretaries were given a fine to pay.

A "backwards lunch was served by the hostess early in the evening. The Valentine and George Washington themes predominated. Small card tables were arranged and places were marked with name cards, bearing each girls' name spelled backwards.

A clever card game followed with penalities given to each player as the game progressed. Winners of the high and low scores were: Florence Davis, Lucille Emery, and Helen Glass.

Novelty door prizes were later won by Helen Keder, Florence Davis, Lucille Emery, Gertrude Graham and Elizabeth Ungar.

Immediately afterwards, president Miss Florence Davis presided at a brief meeting. The N. S. A. style show scheduled for the Cathedral on Wednesday, February 23, at 8:15 o'clock was discussed.

The state meeting of N. S. A. is scheduled in Altoona for March 26-27, and reports were heard from those who expect to attend. Thursday, March 24, is the next regular meeting, and new members will be initiated.

The committee who was given credit for making the party a huge success included: Misses Virginia Iacobucci, Emma Patton, Helen Keder, Myrna Donnelly and Elizabeth Taylor.

AIR POTENTIAL

President Truman and a group of Congressmen have just looked over the handicraft of American plane manufacturers. Lined up in military formation at Andrews Field, near Washington, were the newest, biggest, slickest and fastest in military planes.

No doubt the inspecting party was greatly interested in the new B-47 "light" bomber. This is the plane that left the country gasping last week when it was flown coast to coast in three hours and 46 minutes. Stated in terms of air speed in relation to distance, this means that the United States has now shrunk to the size of an area not much larger than the state of Pennsylvania, using the 26 hours and 50 minutes required for the first nonstop flight across the country in 1923 as a basis of comparison.

No doubt the huge B-49 "flying wing" bomber, which the Air Force says is the biggest jet-propelled aircraft in the world, was also a pleasing sight to the official party. This plane is no slow-poke. It also made a coast-to-coast flight last week, averaging 511 miles an hour in the process.

But the other planes must have been equally fascinating. There were little jets and big jets. There was one new fighter jet that will catch the B-47 mentioned above. That's the way air progress goes. But most impressive of all was the balance and versatility of the Air Force building program, as reflected in the types and numbers of planes presented. This is the kind of thing most reassuring to the man who worries about this country's security—and also foots the bills.

MINIMUM WAGES

There is now a bill before Congress to increase the minimum wage bill and it will doubtless pass.

About the only point in controversy is the amount by which the minimum shall be increased. It is a principle of the proponents of the American economy that high wages bring prosperity and a higher standard of living. There is no question as to the soundness of this belief. But as to how higher wages can be brought about is a matter of some debate.

For example, it has never been shown that wages can be increased by government fiat. Stating legally that a man, or woman, is entitled to a certain minimum wage sounds good—if it works. There is some ground for belief that it will not work at least for a portion of the population, and we mean that portion which is physically or mentally unable to earn the real minimum wage, according to the economic scale of costs at a particular time. Of course, a minimum wage law may work pretty well in times of flash prosperity, when it isn't needed. But when deflationary forces come into play there are grave doubts whether fiat legislation of this kind will come up to high expectations.

The trouble with a fixed minimum wage is that it does not take into account the rise and fall in the national economy which fixes the real wage. Certainly no employer, big or small, in the city or in the country, in the factory, the store or on the farm will pay the legal minimum wage if the employe cannot earn it. The employer will do without the worker and get along with fewer hands. It is possible therefore that in a deflationary time a minimum wage may add to the total unemployment and so decrease the total national wage, which, after all is the thing that counts in making up our prosperity.

It is the theory of the high minimum wage advocates that high wages increase purchasing power and promote prosperity. But it will not work out this way in times of deflation when it is most needed.

Of course we are all opposed to sweatshop labor and it ought to be wiped out. If a reasonable minimum wage law can do this, then all well and good. But to assume that a minimum wage law will bring nation-wide increased buying power and prosperity under all conditions is assuming far too much.

Can't you imagine just how hard the snow-falls hit the kids in towns where schools were forced to close?

New York Democrats are attacking Governor Dewey's school aid plan. We sort of expected they might get around to that.

If atomic bombs are being made larger, it will be more difficult for Russian spies to carry them home in their coat pockets.

Canadian political parties are getting ready for an early election. And we suppose the boys and girls who take the Gallup poll are sharpening their pencils.

The British burned the United States Capitol during the War of 1812. Nowadays they are busy burning our capital. They got away with $3,750,000,000 in a hurry.

General Chiang now follows President Roosevelt and Winston Churchill from the allied stage. Only old Joe remains among the anti-Nazi commanders-in-chief. And to think that the last one left would be only half anti-Nazi, and that only on occasion.

In View Of News Of The World

By J. C. OESTREICHER, INS Foreign Director

The totally unexpected action of Soviet Russia, Byelo-Russia and the Ukarine in pulling out of the United Nations' World Health Organization came as a blow to countless supporters of this purely humanitarian and non-political force for mankind's good.

The brusquely-announced withdrawal was inexplicable save on one score—the fastening of still another padlock on the iron curtain.

Soviet Russia merely said she did not like the organization's work nor its expense.

No Valid Explanation

Neither explanation appears to have much validity. So far as costs are concerned, Russia was assessed only $300,000 in a 1949 budget of five million dollars. This is truly a drop in the bucket compared with Soviet military expenses, for example or with the tremendous financial layouts necessitated by deficiencies in the collective system.

The WHO's work has been praised almost universally. Much note has been made of the fact that national politics and policies have nothing whatever to do with its activities. It has more members, in point of fact, than the U. N. General Assembly itself.

The World Health Organization made its debut in behalf of humanity a very brief time after the U.N. was inaugurated.

Cholera Epidemic

An epidemic of dread cholera broke out in Egypt and a condition arose which might have affected gravely the health and well-being of the entire world.

International commercial aviation had just swung into its post-war stride and Paine field outside of Cairo, which had been a major Allied base throughout the conflict, became a leading terminus and take-off point for world airlines.

The Egyptian government, mindful of the health of its own people and the tremendous danger of infection spreading throughout the world through the medium of air travel, appealed immediately to the WHO.

The response was immediate and overwhelmingly successful. Serums, vaccines and all the other paraphernalia required to halt a major plague were dispatched to Cairo by air without an instant's loss of time and the epidemic was stopped in its tracks.

Evidence indicates that never before in history has a major menace to health been stamped out so speedily.

Spectacular Case

That was a spectacular case. But it is only one of hundreds of instances in which the WHO, with its immense prestige and tremendous resources, has worked alone or in coordination with other established health organizations in saving lives and reducing human suffering and privation.

There is, for example, the tremendous project now under way in the war-ravaged countries of Europe in which 100 million children are being examined for incipient tuberculosis and the finest treatment given to those found to be afflicted.

There is the world-wide distribution of drugs such as penicillin and streptomycin which otherwise would be virtualy unobtainable in some countries.

There is distribution of medical literature and exchange of students and doctors among nations, made possible only by the WHO.

Vast Campaign

There is a vast campaign of action against venereal disease, inoculations, exhibits and intensive "on the spot" studies of fertile but pestilential areas where the vicious cycle of fast-growing vegetation and human death long has been a curse upon the world.

Only a few weeks ago the WHO had a major test when yellow fever broke out in Panama. The plague was halted by the Pan American Sanitary commission. But the net result was the latter's decision to join forces with the world body for mutual advantages.

Facts such as these render the eastern bloc's action all the more inexplicable. The sole explanation may lie in the fact that member nations—58 belonged before the withdrawals and 30 already have asked for aid—must permit U.N. salvation teams full freedom of action. This apparently is alien to Soviet policy—even in the sphere of human health.

The World and the Mud Puddles

WHO GET'S CHINA'S TRADE?

Now, what is going to happen in China?

The assumption is that the National Government in China will cease to function with the departure of Chiang-Kai-shek and the invasion of the Communist Armies into the Capital.

What sort of a government can exist in China whether it be Nationalist or Communist when a mere postage stamp costs more than a million dollars in Chinese money and the inflation of currency is greater than the world has ever seen? How is the new regime going to finance a nation and meet this inflation problem? How is the new government going to insure food enough to stave off starvation of four hundred million Chinese citizens? And what chance has the Red government in promoting substantial industry when the chief resources in raw materials have been practically taken over by the Soviets since their invasion of Manchuria, as well as the machinery? How can a system similar to the Soviet "must" system succeed? Such a compulsory arrangement calls for a stronger dictator than Chiang-Kai-shek; and it is not at all improbable that such an arrangement would result in chronic civil revolt of the guerrilla type, with the old war lords gradually reviving their private armies and the bandit gangs resuminig their marauding tactics.

Will Soviet Remain Aloof?

Will Soviet Russia keep her hands off? Will they be just as interested in supplying the needs of four hundred million Chinese with goods, wares and merchandise heretofore furnished to a large extent by the Western nations—Great Britain, the United States and the Dutch? The Shanghai market was a great market, and with all the help that the United States gave to Chiang-Kai-shek, there was very little, if anything, done to protect the foreign concessions in Shanghai.

Hitler was frankly a Capitalist and as such he became convinced that he must smash upstart Soviet Russia and he said when the Allies had decided to help the Soviets in their fight: "The Allies will be sorry, for they will find the Soviets a greater menace than the Germans." And he was right in one pronouncement, at least.

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

Five minutes ago it was snug and warm in my study.

Now I am shivering.

I look at the thermometer. It can't be that.

The thermometer registers 70 degrees, and that is enough for anybody.

Oh, yes, I know why I feel cold. It is that letter I just opened.

It is an invitation from the American Polar society, asking me to become a member.

Imagine, anybody wanting to join the American Polar society in February!

Only a half hour ago I got through talking to a friend who leaves for Haiti in a couple of days.

Less than 15 minutes ago I finished the travel section of last Sunday's newspaper and read about the West Indies, the Riviera, South America and all the other tropical paradises in which you can spend a few glorious weeks for anywhere from $500 to $5,000.

We are not going to any tropical paradises this winter. Still too many doctor bills to pay.

But one nice thing about those travel sections of the Sunday newspaper is that for ten cents you can have a $5,000 dream trip, and you don't even have to dress up for it.

No, we are not going to the tropics this winter.

But neither am I going to join the American Polar society, even though it costs only a dollar a year, and even though Admiral Byrd, Lt. Commander Lincoln Ellsworth and Vilhjalmur Stefansson would be fellow members of mine.

However, if you want to join. I am sure they'd be glad to get your dollar and make you a member.

It will be mighty handy to have such a membership in case you ever intend to go on an expedition to the Polar regions.

They'll send you maps of the North Pole or the South Pole and give you information on glaciology, oceanography, animal transport, polar philately or anything else connected with the poles.

You may think I am making fun of this American Polar society

I am not. I am poling fun at myself.

Ten years, ago, 15 years ago, I would have been tickled pink to join the society and go along on any expedition to either pole.

Fifteen years ago, when I joined the Adventurers' club, I attended one of their meetings and got a big kick out of them.

Today I sit back in my grandfather's chair and read the ads about adventure and the colored booklets about romance.

Just an old fogy, that's what I am!

Hints On Etiquette

Group entertaining solves the problem for hostesses or hosts in these expensive days. The invitations should bear the names of all the hosts or hostesses.

From Me To You

By MESEEALL

Oh what a wonderful morning . . . oh what a glorious day . . . everyone seemed to be out yesterday and smiles were on all eager faces . . . customer and merchant alike. The weather must have been on special order by both parties concerned . . . and at this writing, early Friday morning it looks like another boomer day. Not too cool, not too warm . . . the streets and sidewalks dry . . . everything seemed in tune . . . that is almost without a hitch . . . but we did see a hitch.

Always has to be a damper somewhere in such a beautiful picture . . . it came around noon yesterday . . . some unthinking furnace tender must have decided to clean out the flues . . . Soot, in hunks the size of quarters, came tumbling down by the bucketful . . . At one time it was almost impossible to see across the street . . . at the corner of Mercer and East Washington.

People took this soot into their breathing system . . . the oily soot marred clothing . . . at twelve-thirty yesterday several bushel baskets of light, oily soot gathered in piles in front of several stores between Mill and Mercer streets. It was a mess . . . yes, there was a damper and it caused a lot of comment.

How should this problem of soot be treated . . . soot causes everyone a lot of money each year . . . sinus trouble, cleaning bills, etc. Education is one way to start correcting this evil . . . proper firing of boilers and furnaces. It's not industrial smoke that causes the greatest concern . . . in the downtown area it's the firing of many boilers in many buildings . . . homes too add their share of soot and smoke.

* * *

At this point we are NOT in favor of a city ordinance to clear up the subject . . . but we would like to hear from the Smoke Study committee that is now operating . . . There is one, formed by the GNCA . . . Instructions on how to properly fire and tend boilers and furnaces (coal fired) would be a big help to many janitors and home owners. Not only would the soot content of the air be reduced . . . but more heat from coal could be developed.

Man Who Came To Dinner

Washington Calling

(By Marquis Childs)

"Beating of Jungle Drums"

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—Among jungle tribes a common way of arousing tribal passions for war or for religious sacrifice is the beating of a jungle drum. Thump, thump, thump goes the drum and the human pulse responds with a quickened excitable tempo.

If we are honest with ourselves, we must admit that something like that seems to be happening here in our highly vaunted civilization. Certain events today seem to be on a level with the thumping of that drum.

Last week the Department of the Army released a length document detailing the activities of a Soviet Russian spy ring in Tokyo that was extraordinarily successful in the late 'thirties and until it was broken up with the arrest of the principals in the fall of 1941. I have now read every word of that document and I hope to show in this and a following column why I believe its publication sets a new and dangerous precedent.

The report was put together by intelligence agents of Maj. Gen. Charles A. Willoughby who has been head of General MacArthur's G-2 (intelligence) division through the war and in the occupation of Japan. They compiled it from Japanese police and counter-intelligence reports and these reports in turn seem to have been based chiefly on the statements of convicted spies in the months preceding their execution by the Japs.

Full of Comment

Instead of being a carefully written factual document, the report put out by the army is full of editorial comment. At times it seems to put a romantic gloss over the espionage activities and then it reads like the script for one of Hollywood's lesser "B" pictures.

The document apparently has been in existence for a year or more. I have asked a number of officials in the Pentagon building why it was released at this time and the answers are noncommittal or evasive. It happened, says the Pentagon, that the document was declassified and, therefore, no longer secret or restricted and some newspapermen wanted to print it and its was given out.

The sensational story told in the document naturally made Page 1 headlines. It fed the fear and uncertainty that are too much a part of the prevailing atmosphere.

"One begins to wonder," says this extraordinary document, "whom one can trust, what innocent comrade or loyal friend may suddenly be discovered as the enemy. He may have any face."

(Thump, thump, thump goes the jungle drum.)

Diverts Attention

One effect of this sensation is to divert attention from what is actually happening in Japan. In spite of Gen. MacArthur's sincere and intensive efforts, in spite of his optimistic statements, the trend in Japan seems to be toward the extreme left and the extreme right.

In the latest election the Communist vote went from approximately 1,000,000 at the preceding election to 3,000,000. The Communists increased their seats in the parliament—total number of seats 466—from four to 35.

At the same time the center and moderate parties—the Socialists, the Democrats and the People's Co-operatives—all lost seats. The Democratic-Liberal party, which is on the extreme right and neither very Democratic nor very liberal, got a total of 264, a narrow majority of 31 seats.

One thing the Tokyo spy report

One Man's Opinion

By Walter Kiernan

(By International News Service)

Signs of spring in the east includ blooming crocuses, the return of the robins and the arrest of a man who offered to marry seven women single-handed.

But in the Mid-west one man reports his wife went to milk the cows in January and hasn't got back . . . he knows she's living because he can detect an extra "moooo" coming from the barn.

It may be March before he sees her or a milk check again but if she's been tending to her duty he'll have enough sour cream to float a delicatessen.

In Philadelphia it's such beautiful weather that Mike Quill arranged for everyone to walk to work for a week.

In New York taxi fares are to increased . . . the new rate will be 25 cents for the first quarter mile or the first 10 minutes trying to get away from the curb.

Some fellows say you can't get anywhere in a cab today . . . others just smile and say "Oh no?"

Just Folks

BACKWARD LOOK

The more I dwell on my affairs
The clearer I can see
Too soon I dropped my work and stopped
The task of bettering me
Now there are books upon the shelves
Which stand there still unread.
I could have gained what they contained,
But chose to play instead.
I'd heard the day divided is
For sleep and toil and play.
When done my bit I'd haste to quit
And romp eight hours away.
But had I worked a little more,
Then more I should have earned;
And there is lore, by reading more,
I surely could have learned.
The wiser man I might have been
Has never grown to be.
I'm sure he died the day I sighed:
"The task's too great for me."
There was a goal I might have reached,
But, weary or afraid,
I thought to rest would suit me best,
And where I stopped, I've stayed.

JOBS UPON A TIME

BARRY FITZGERALD was born in Dublin, started his career as a junior stock exchange clerk by day and an apprentice at the Abbey theater in the evenings. Sean O'Casey wrote The Silver Tassle for Fiezgerald in 1929, and Barry became a full-fledged actor right then. He arrived in the United States in 1937 and appeared in The Plough and the Stars. Barry won an Oscar for his supporting role of the elderly priest with Bing Crosby in Going My Way. And Then There Were None, Dnffy's Tavern and The Naked City are some recent pictures.

Conversations On Potoniac

(By Holmes Alexander)

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Secretary of Navy Sullivan last week went to the White House to discuss two appointments with President Truman. Sullivan said he wanted Dan A. Kimball of Los Angeles as assistant secretary for air. "Shall I clear it with Senator Downey (D. Calif)?" asked Sullivan.

"Look," said the President, "I made three campaign speeches in California and Downey didn't show up at any of them. I don't give a hoot whether you clear it with him or not."

"Well," said Sullivan, "Jimmy Roosevelt is supposed to be Democratic boss in California. Shall I clear the appointment with him?"

"If you don't mind wasting government money on phone calls, go ahead," said Mr. Truman. "But it won't make any difference to me."

Sullivan's other appointment was John T. Koehler, a Pennsylvania-born Maryland resident, who has been nominated as assistant secretary. Sullivan took Jack Koehler to the Capitol to meet Vice President Barkley and Senator McGrath, Democratic National Chairman. Barkley said:

"Glad to meet you Mr. Koehler. Do you happen to play the harmonica? I play it every morning in the bathroom and I'm getting very good."

McGrath said: "How d'you stand in with Millard (Senator Millard Tydings of Maryland)?"

"Fine," said Koehler. This is true. But Koehler didn't add that he's being groomed to run for Tydings' seat in 1950 if the veteran statesman decides to retire.

Jack Koehler, who wears steel-rimmed glasses and showed iron nerve as an underwater demolition man in the Mediterranean and Pacific theaters, went into politics out of moral indignation. He was just getting started as a Pittsburgh corporation lawyer when he looked out of a ten-story office window and saw the police brutally breaking up a labor rally. Koehler went down to the street where he saw a dazed worker, his scalp almost torn from his head. The man was muttering, "All I want is me rights . . . me rights."

There was something wrong with this picture, thought Koehler, and he became one of the "bright young men" from Harvard Law School who turned up in Washington in 1933. He roomed with Tom Corcoran. A year or so later, having finished an assignment at the Justice Department, he was looking for another government job. Henry Wallace, then Secretary of Agriculture and leader of the ultra-liberals, asked him to join the department staff. But Koehler, sensing that there was something crackpot about this group of ultras, declined. Instead, he took a job in the Treasury Department under Dean Acheson, now Secretary of State.

Koehler also had occasion to change his early allegiance to two other men. In 1930, while in New York, he met Tom Dewey who persuaded him to split some speaking assignments in the campaign against Governor Roosevelt, candidate for re-election. Koehler liked Dewey well enough until it appeared that Tom was taking the easy assignments and sending Jack into the tough neighborhoods.

Ten years later Koehler broke with Mr. Roosevelt over the third-term issue and joined the Democrats for Willkie group in Baltimore. Despite this nervy independence, he was invited back to Washington as a civilian lawyer for the Navy Department. On November 11, 1942, just another 1-A bachelor to his draft board, he was ordered to report for induction. When he didn't the board phoned his office to find out why not. "You're talking to a Lieutenant Commander," chuckled Koehler. Although he could have stayed at a Washington desk, he chose sea duty and came home with a fine combat record and a Silver Star.

Rockefeller interests have financed tuna fish packing plants in one of the "underdeveloped areas" of the Pacific. This seemed in perfect accord with Point Four of the President's inaugural address in which he called upon private interests to export their capital and know-how. But one of the Rockefeller brokers last week discussed the project with a government official who said: "All right. But you'd better not make too much money. If you do, we'll throw you out."

One more fish story. At a slumbersome session of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, Chairman Tom Connally was peacefully reading a Washington newspaper while a witness was testifying on Norway's need for American aid. A news photographer, sensing a good picture, crept to the committee table and aimed his camera on Connally. The Texas statesman saw him just in time to stare him down and wag a reproving finger. Then, as if to prove he'd been listening all the while, Connally asked the witness if Norway exported any herring. The witness assented. "Red herring or blue herring?" demanded Connally who knows how to have his face by drawing a laugh.

State Police Say:

Does a sign along the highway bearing the legend "SCHOOL ZONE" or "SCHOOL—SLOW" impel you to look at your watch? It should. Because regardless of other regulatory signs, the speed limit in school zones automatically reverts to 15 MPH during the hours of dismissal, thus prolonging the lowest speed limit. So the next time you a "SCHOOL ZONE" sign, glance at your watch and slow down.

They Say

WASHINGTON—Lt. Col. Robert G. Emmons, Doolittle Tokyo raid survivor . . . "We lived (in Russia) in a mud house, on army cots with no mattresses. Even the Red army officers who accompanied us there were shocked."

FRANKFURT, Germany—Gen. Lucius D. Clay . . . "It is apparent that sufficient time has elapsed since the surrender of Germany for voluntary repatriation to be completed."

WASHINGTON—John W. Gibson, assistant secretary of labor . . . "Gen. MacArthur said to me in a very forthright fashion that he considered himself the father of labor in Japan . . . (and that) nothing was going to happen to destroy the union movement in Japan."

I Thessalonians 4:11—Study to be quiet, and to do your own business, and to work with your hands,—

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

FORGET CHILD'S PAST MISDOINGS

When we moved to our present home we brought with us a screen for our fireplace used in our former home. This screen is a bit short for our fireplace and Mrs. Myers and I have often argued over the desirability of getting a larger screen. It's still a subject of argument.

Recently some sparks jumped out when we weren't looking and left a few black burned spots on the rug. Discovery of the latest such spot revived the argument a bit. Again today, several days following this discovery, I expressed a bit of emotion over the spot and what it portends. Mrs. Meyers cleverly suggested that as we had already made our emotional expenditure over this spot we might just chalk it off the agenda. I was convinced. Then I saw a column in this incident.

Naughty Deed

Every parent knows how easy it is to bring up old spots. For example, you have had your tot, three, sitting on a chair for 20 minutes for some naughty deed and he has barely finished serving the sentence when a neighbor drops in. The neighbor pays the child an honest compliment. Then you spoil it by saying, "He is not always so good. I just had to punish him a few minutes ago."

Likewise it is hard to forget some former misdemeanor or dereliction of a child three, eight or fourteen when you are vexed at him in some new situation. The same principle obtains in relation to your husband or wife. A present annoyance to you by any person, indeed, tends to cause you

229th Gets Ready For Federal Test

Showdown Inspection Of Clothing And Equipment Conducted Last Night

In preparation for the annual Federal Inspection of the 229th Field Artillery, a showdown inspection of clothing and equipment was conducted in Cunningham armory, Thursday evening, Lt. Col. George F. Mitchell, commanding officer of the 229th stated today.

This was to determine the amount and condition of the equipment in preparation for the federal event.

THE PARENT PROBLEM

to remind him of a similar earlier annoyance. If you can so control yourself as to keep from uttering the reminder you still may incline to harbor in your mind and heart the earlier vexation and this, in turn, may cause you to feel and act differently toward that person —child, spouse or other individual —for several minutes, several hours or many days.

Human Frailty

The persistent lingering in our mind and heart of this one annoyance by another person tends to blind our eyes, dull our ears, harden our hearts against all the loveliness in this person. Just see how this human frailty in us can hamper us in all our family relationships, including our relationships with our children!

I really believe that a very fruitful place for us to work on ourselves is in this field, if we would do our best at influencing our children, spouse and other persons.

Once we have expressed disapproval or administered rebuke or punishment or just blown up emotionally over some matter let us try to close the issue right there and never bring it up again. Let us not even harbor it in our heads and hearts. Then we would achieve a bit of the Divine expressed by the Psalmist so reverently: As far as the east is from the west, so far hath He removed from us our transgressions."

With this ideal in mind, I once wrote a prayer for myself as parent, which appeared at the end of my book, "The Modern Parent," now out of print but in many public libraries. A copy of this prayer may be had in a stamped envelope by writing me at 235 East 45th street, New York, N. Y.

Health Talks

By DR. W. A. WOMER
City Health Superintendent

CLAWS

A good many animals have claws. They are useful. Some animals use them for scratching their food out of the ground.

Some use them for help in climbing trees.

Some use them as weapons to kill other animals or for protection.

Girls like to have pretty nails. Some like them long and some like them short.

Some paint them to match their lips or their dress or their shoes.

We want our girls to be pretty. Good health and good food and right living help girls to be pretty.

Plenty of sleep, lots of soap and water, some work and some play are better than lip stick and nail polish.

Give them all the rouge and mascara and nail enamel they want. Be sure first that they have all the important things to preserve the beauty of their eyes, their cheeks, their teeth, their hands, their dispositions and their lives.

Keep your chin up and you're not very likely to be sticking your neck out.

WASHINGTON CALLING

does which to my knowledge is unprecedented in a document officially given out by a military branch of the government—it announces that an American citizen, Miss Agnes Smedley, is "a spy and agent of the Soviet government."

The paragraphs devoted to Miss Smedley, a journalist who has spent many years in China, give no supporting proof for this charge. The reader gathers that the charge is based on the statements of the two convicted spies, Richard Sorge and Osako Hozumi.

Radical Departure

The document also accuses Miss Smedley of inventing the "hoax" that the Chinese Communists are merely Agrarian reformers. But quite apart from Miss Smedley's views or her political affiliations, it is a radical departure from the Anglo-Saxon tradition of justice that she should be denounced as guilty of the dreadful crime of treason without evidence or without a chance to present her own defense.

Aside from the moral and ethical implications, there is reason to doubt whether the unprecedented approach of the Tokyo report is the way to defeat espionage. By publishing the report the authorsponsors seem to be saying that the public must be stirred up to catch spies.

With the exception of Communists, fellow-travelers and unthinking pacifists, Americans have come to understand that we must calmly and resolutely build the strength of this country to meet the challenge of Communist aggression. That process is not helped by whipping up a froth of fear and suspicion.

Reporter Loses 15 Pounds Walking Three Blocks

Would you believe that a person can lose 15 lbs. of weight while walking down the street, in a space of three city blocks, This News reporter did it all in 15 minutes time.

Walking downtown, Thursday afternoon, I stepped on a public weighing machine, to find that I was about 16 pounds overweight from my usual 170 lbs. I had just weighed myself two or three days previously and thought it rather odd I should gain so much weight in so short a time.

Being of a curious nature, I walked along the street to ten different weighing machines, and found out I weighed anywhere from 165 pounds to 187 pounds. Averaging these weights together I found I could obtain my proper weight of 170 pounds.

Some of the different and interesting experiences I encountered may be worth mentioning. I found that by walking two and a half blocks I gained 15 pounds. I counld lose the same number of pounds by reversing my course. I found out I would have extremely good luck if I undertook any financial or marital ventures, that I was born under the sign of Capricorn, that I was well equipped with circumspection, and that Cleopatra and the ladies of her court had had all these attributes. Most people will tell you that it is impossible to be insulted by one of these machines, I am forced to differ with them. I was told I didn't have enough common sense to undertake any risks and that if I did I would come to a violent end. Lastly the machines tell you how much you should weigh according to your height.

I was rather interested how people arrived at these figures, because it told me that for my five feet ten inches I should only weigh 154 lbs. According to that scale I was 27 pounds overweight. I found out these figures were only an average and as long as people lived normal healthy lives, they had nothing to worry about.

I had heard before that people weighed less in the morning than they did in the evening, but I never knew you lost it all in 15 minutes.

But the fact revealed in this yarn is that public weighing scales along the downtown street vary greatly in the weights announced.

Dr. Thos. H. Morris To Speak Sunday

Methodist District Superintendent To Speak At New Wilmington

(Special to The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Feb. 18.—"Let us Look at the Church" will be the sermon topic of Dr. Thomas H. Morris, district superintendent of the Grove City district of the Methodist church, at Sunday morning worship services at the local Methodist church.

Dr. Morris formerly served in Buffalo, Pittsburgh and Johnstown. His most recent charge was at Oil City.

Something new in the way of an evening service is planned by Rev. George Myers of the Methodist church Sunday. Following his sermon entitled "Faith in God," members of the congregation will be given an opportunity to talk back.

Would Remove Postal Service From Politics

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—(INS)—The Hoover commission recommended a complete overhauling of the postal service, including its removal from politics, in the interest of efficiency and economy.

In its fourth report to congress on government reorganization, the commission proposed that:

1. The postmaster general be appointed by the president and confirmed by the senate, as is the case now, but that the job be held by a non-partisan official and not by the chairman of a national committee of one of the major parties.

2. Postmasters be removed from the requirement of senate confirmation, a step that would end this form of patronage, which according to custom, is the special prerogative of house members.

3. The position of director of posts be created. The person filling this job would be "the operating head" of the system, working under the postmaster general. Appointees would have to be confirmed by the senate.

4. The postal service be decentralized into 15 regions under regional directors of posts and district superintendents.

The commission, headed by former President Hoover, pointed out that legislation would be required to carry out its recommendations.

Encampments Of National Guard Being Planned

HARRISBURG, Feb. 18.—(INS)—Summer training for units of the Pennsylvania National Guard will be split into four separate encampments, it was announced today by the military affairs department.

Adj. Gen. Frank A. Weber announced that 8,000 guardsmen will open the training program with an encampment at Indiantown Gap military reservation July 9 to 23. Eight thousand others will hold the second encampment at the same site July 24 to August 7.

Thirty-five hundred members of the PNG's first anti-aircraft artillery brigade, commanded by Maj. Gen. Charles C. Curtis of Allentown, will hold training exercises at Camp Perry, O., July 24 to August 7.

The guard's air arm, the 53rd fighter wing, will hold aerial maneuvers August 13 to 28 at the Dover and New Castle air bases, both in Delaware. Col. William S. Johnstown of Rydal will command 1,200 airmen during the maneuvers.

In addition to the two PNG encampments at Indiantown Gap, the wartime army camp will be used for field training by the 79th (Pennsylvania) infantry division, organized reserve corps, June 18 to July 2; the 176th regimental combat team and the 560th field artillery battalion of the Maryland-Virginia National Guard July 9 to 23 and the 29th infantry division, Maryland-Virginia National Guard, August 20 to September 3.

Revenue Office To Be Closed Tuesday

It was announced today by G. A. Funkhouser, deputy collector of internal revenue here, that word has been received from Stanley Granger, collector for the western Pennsylvania district, that the office of the Collector at Pittsburgh, as well as all branch offices in the district, will be closed all day on Tuesday, February 22.

This is in observance of the birthday of George Washington, the nation's first president.

Given Sentence For Evasion Of Some Income Tax

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 18.—(INS)—A Chester county mushroom grower who admitted evading payment of income taxes of $11,831.33 on his income of $61,326.44 from 1944 to 1946 was sentenced to 35 days in prison today by Federal Judge Guy K. Bard.

Angelo Roberts, 60, of West Grove, Pa., father of four children, pleaded no defense to charges that he falsely reported his earnings for the three-year period were but $34,190.74, and paying taxes of $9,093.56 instead of $20,924.89 on his "real" income.

Judge Bard, imposing sentence, said he would deal rather lightly with Roberts, whose counsel, former District Attorney John Morris of Chester county, described as an illiterate, because Roberts has paid the government the "deficiency" of $11,831.33, plus fraud penatlies and interest amounting to more than $7,000.

The jack, jak or jaca tree of East India is of the same genus as the bread fruit, but larger. The fruit is larger, weighing from five to 50 pounds, sometimes 70 pounds. It forms a great part of the food of the natives of some parts of Ceylon, etc.

Leader Of Tulsa Mass Eviction Plan To Testify

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—(INS)—Rev. Wallace Murphy, leader of the Tulsa mass eviction campaign, was called today for questioning by the House Banking committee considering a two-year extension of recent controls.

Murphy is spokesman for the group of Tulsa landlords who served eviction notices on their tenants as a protest to the continuation of controls. He led a delegation of landlords to Washington earlier this week.

The House group plans to begin voting on the bill at a closed session Monday.

Two administration supporters on the committee, Rep. Monroney (D) Okla., and Rep. Buchanan (D) Pa., said that the proposals advocated by U. S. Housing Expediter Tighe E. Woods will be extensively amended.

Monroney predicted that controls will be extended for only a year while Buchanan foresaw an extension of 15 months. The present law expires March 31.

Many Spring Signs Seen At Cascade Park Now

Spring may be more than a month away as far as the calendar goes but at Cascade Park it has almost arrived.

Naturally at this time of the year — mid-February — one would hardly expect to find any signs of spring in the vast acreage but on the contrary on can hardly find any signs of winter. Slowly, but quietly mother nature has been doing her best to put on an advance Easter display and with the cooperation of the elements one of the earliest showings of Spring flowers may be in effect very shortly.

Some Trees Budding

Lilac trees are budding, apple trees are getting ready to bud, grass is growing and the flox already has pushed its way up through the ground which fails to reveal one bit of frost in it. Even the bluebirds and robins are adding to the spring-like air the popular amusement center has taken on.

Cascade Lake, which last year at this time resounded with the joyful shouts of happy young people as they shot over the ice on their trusty skates, looked as calm and peaceful as the Mediterranean which is noted for its tranquility. Only four good days of skating weather have been enjoyed on the lake this winter.

Wild Ducks Here

Superintendent of the park, Chris Coulthard, reports seeing four wild ducks making use of Cascade Lake during the week. The ducks were taking an early morning swim and seemed to be enjoying the calmness of the air and fine weather conditions.

Chris, who has been with the park for the past 20 years, says that this is the first real open winter he has seen out there since he took over when things were so far advanced. Mr. Coulthard keeps a watchful eye on the situation in his effort to keep the property in good condition and to make it as beautiful as possible when the park season opens in May.

Some of the more than 150-year-old trees there have to be watched carefully and when necessity arises one or two of them must be cut down as has been the case this winter. Two of the park bridges will need repairs before the season opens and plans are under way to paint the buildings to make them more attractive to visitors.

If you doubt that Spring is near out Cascade Park way, jump in the old car and drive out to the park and I'm sure you won't have to travel far to tell that Mother Nature has selected a new Spring debut day.

Ministers Sponsor 'God Of Creation'

Unusual Sound Film Will Be Presented February 23 In First Methodist Church

New Castle Ministerial Association will sponsor an unusual and very beautiful sound film, "The God of Creation". This film will be shown at 7:45 p. m. Wednesday, February 23, in the First Methodist church, Jefferson and North streets. "The God of Creation" not only carries a great Christian message, but it has unusually beautiful, scientific color movies, the like of which have probably not been made before. This is the first time-compressed colored movie of the photosynthesis of a leaf.

Space and its galaxies of stars are explored through the telescopes of Mt. Wilson Observatory. Then, in sharp contrast to the immensities of the universe, the wonders of the everyday world are colorfully portrayed. Plants grow, buds blossom, a caterpillar wiggles into a butterfly, all in a few seconds by the time-compressing photo technique.

This unusual film was produced in Los Angeles and is being brought to New Castle from Chicago by Ranken Moffitt. The churches of New Castle are happy to unite in bringing this great film to our city.

Report $120,000 In Stolen Loot Is Recovered

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Feb. 18. — (INS) — Police today held $120,000 in stolen valuables and a third woman in the life of Gerard Graham Dennis, dapper "raffles" believed to have stolen over half a million dollars in his "blue-book burglary" career.

The disclosure of Dennis' coast-to-coast operations came when California police raided a plush home he maintained in fashionable Beverly Hills, finding stolen loot and an attractive girl who had posed as Dennis' wife.

The raid yesterday followed a tip from police in Cleveland, Ohio, where Dennis confessed yesterday to nationwide forays against jewel treasuries of famous people.

The raiders found several tin cans filled with platinum and gold scraps, jeweler's equipment and burglar tools in closets that also contained a mink coat, gems and other valuables.

Dennis was arrested on the tip given by pretty Gloria Horowtiz, a 20-year-old model, to Philadelphia police, in July 1947.

Dennis' legal wife, Eleanor Harris Farrell, was seized by New York police in August 1947 with four fully loaded guns, jewelry and furs in a raid on a Bronx apartment maintained by the slick gem thief.

Captain Chester K. Maxwell said that the plane will have to be found today if chances for survival of the three men aboard are to remain good.

The craift disappeared Tuesday while on a training flight from Washington. It is believed to have crashed somewhere in the Pittsburgh district.

Plan To Grow Pair Of Ears For Hartstown Boy

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 18.—(INS)—Little Jimmy Meadors, of Hartstown, Pa., is in Pittsburgh to get himself fitted for a pair of ears.

The eight-year-old lad was born without ears, but has ear drums and normal auditory canals, and can hear, physicians say, though he has no ear openings.

The new set of ears will be grown in the boy's stomach.

Physicians will take pieces of cartilage from Jimmy's ribs, fashion them into the shape of ears, then plant them in his abdominal cavity to grow.

In about two years, they will be attached to his head. Six to eight operations will be necessary.

The operations are scheduled to begin at the Children's hospital in Pittsburgh, under the direction of Dr. S. M. Dupertuis.

The treatments are being sponsored by the Greenville Rotary club, which also sponsored similar treatments a year ago for eight-year-old Gary Lang.

Jimmy's father is employed by the Greenville Steel Car Co.

Churches Of Nation Are Discussed By Babson

By ROGER W. BABSON
Copyright—1949—Publishers Financial Bureau, Incorporated

BABSON PARK, Fla., Feb. 18.—When reading the newspapers or magazines the past month containing the Reviews of 1948, I have found no reference to churches. All other subjects — such as railroads, manufacturing, merchandising, shipping, etc.—have been fully reported but I find no reference to church news.

Roger W. Babson

Certainly the churches of each community are not neglected by their local newspapers. These newspapers give more free space to the church news than to any other group. Most newspaper owners are churchgoers themselves, and they realize the importance to their communities of the churches. Furthermore, most of the intelligent reading public attend some church and are interested in the news thereof.

Why then do I find all other "industries" reviewed in detail by the large city newspapers without any reference to the church industry? Perhaps it is due to the ignorance or neglect of those who write up reviews of these other industries. If so, these men should be awakened to what is going on in the religious world. Religious work is not only moving, but it is moving in the right direction. This was not always true, but it is true today.

Importance of Church Industry

There are about 200,000 church buildings in the United States. These churches have an aggregate membership of about 60,000,000. These church organizations expend upon salaries, benevolences, new buildings, repairs and missions about $1,000,000,000 per year. The value of the church property alone is estimated at $5,000,000,000 and this is constantly increasing. Therefore, I claim this represents an industry that is entitled to at least an annual review equal to that given other billion dollar industries.

I am not claiming greater recognition in view of only the property and money involved. The church has made its greatest progress when it was poorest; the church will lose its power when trying to imitate "big business". Rather, I have in mind what all legitimate industries owe to the churches. In fact, without the churches, great industries could not exist. The importance of honesty, industry, thrift and good habits, which all churches preach, is fundamental to banking and all forms of credit which provide the incentive, causing men to work for the general good. The church is the father of faith, without which we could not exist. To preachers, school teachers and inventors we owe almost everything.

What About 1949?

During the recent world war religious interest declined. Our youth could not "make sense" out of being taught by the army to fight and kill; and, at the same time, being taught by the church to be kind, honest and constructive. As the government had the power and the money to spend on propaganda, the church temporarily was obliged to take a back seat. Since 1946, however, the returning soldiers have so seen the futility of war that they feel they were misled by their army officers. These veterans now conclude that their officers were wrong, and that war does not settle anything. The interest which young people are taking today in the World Federalists movement shows the way the wind is blowing.

As a result of this change in sentiment, most churches had a good year in 1948 and are entering 1949 with the best of hopes. Looking back on 1948 I not only have in mind the great international gatherings at Amsterdam and elsewhere, but such wonderful meetings as took place at the Cathedral of St. John, New York City, last fall. There, an unknown English rector brought together 10,000 people for many nights. It seemed like the old Billy Sunday enthusiasm carried on in a dignified manner with a sane doctrine. I could mention many great leaders, but especially have in mind Father Rex Wilkes of Grace church, Baltimore; Dr. Lewis of Trinity parish, New York City, and Dr. Stanley Jones, woh is now touring the country in the interests of church union. The youth movement which is holding large meetings every month in the leading cities had a constant growth throughout 1948, and also looks forward into 1949 with even more power and hope.

State May Stiffen Ban On Public Utility Tie-Ups

HARRISBURG, Feb. 18.—(INS)—The Philadelphia transportation strike today pointed up the probable stiffening of the commonwealth's ban on public utility tie-ups.

An act of 1947 specifically bans strikes in electric, gas, water and steam heat utilities which would be harmful to the general public but the law cannot be construed to cover the Philadelphia walkout.

The statute, which in effect sets up settlement procedures to prevent walkouts in public utilities, contains no provision for strikes by transportation workers. A bill introduced in the Senate this week by Sen. A. Evans Kephart (R), Philadelphia, would amend the law to include "urban transportation" workers.

A public hearing on the proposed amendment will be held at the state capitol Monday at 10 a.m. by the senator labor committee headed by Sen. James S. Berger (R) Potter.

Peter Island, with an area of 94 square miles, lies in the Antarctic and is uninhabited.

Women Of Moose Have Initiation

Program Is Presented At Meeting At Moose Home Thursday Night

Women of the Moose held Ritualistic Chapter Night, Thursday evening, at which time three new members were initiated into the organization, with the complete solemn ritual being used. The theme of the organization is "Faith, Hope and Charity", with the following usage of these three words: Faith in mankind, Hope for everlasting eternity and Charity for all. Mrs. Elgin McConnell fills the station of Faith; Mrs. Ann Conti, of Hope, and Mrs. Rose Bishop, that of Charity. The ritualistic work was supervised by Mrs. Edwin Fisher.

Preceding the initiation and ritualistic work, a tureen dinner was held for 75 ladies, in honor of Mrs. Stella Fisher, of Sharon, state officer. The three new members were also guests of honor. Due to the absence of the Ritualistic chairlady, Mrs. Margaret Grittie, Mrs. Charles Jameson, cochairlady was in charge of the meeting. Her committee consisted of: Mrs. Clea Crawh, Mrs. Edna Cox, Mrs. Ann Conti and Mrs. Ruth Segar.

Mrs. Stella Fisher, as the speaker of the evening, gave a stirring speech on "tolerance", which was very well received by the ladies.

Movies were then shown of "Mooseheart", which were enjoyed by all.

Plans were completed for a sauerkraut dinner, to be held February 23, with Mrs. Charles Jameson as chairlady.

Parent-Teachers

Walmo P. T. A.

Members of the Walmo PTA met Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock in Walmo school at which time a short Foudner's Day program was held . Mrs. L. J. Moore and Mrs. Howard Foster read papers on the lives of the founders.

During the business meeting, members voted to contribute $50 to the library for the purpose of purchasing books.

Dr. James Gillespie, vice president of the New Castle Good Will Conference chapter of the International Brotherhood, was then introduced as the guest speaker. In his talk he stressed the efforts now being made to strengthen relationships between people of different religion, creed and race.

Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting by the ways and means committee with Mrs. Peter Grim in charge.

The 9,000 books in the library of the late President Woodrow Wilson were added to the Library of Congress in 1946 by Mrs. Wilson. A special room is planned near the rear book collection to care for them.

Declares Axis Sally Threatened GI's In Germany

By CHARLES B. SEIB
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—A defense witness in "boomerang" testimony at the Axis Sally treason trial today accused the American-born woman of threatening GI's who refused to take part in her nazi propaganda programs.

The witness, Gunnar Drangsholt of Chicago, clashed bitterly with Defense Attorney James J. Laughlin.

Drangsholt was summoned to testify in behalf of "Sally"—Miss Mildred Gillars—but quickly proved hostile to the silvery-haired defendant who is accused of betraying her country by broadcasting wartime nazi propaganda.

The witness said he met Miss Gillars in March, 1944, at the Stalag II B German prison camp.

He testified Miss Gillars told him she was "an American citizen doing things of loyalty and patriotism toward America" and that she was "on the right side and being paid by the German government for her services."

Drangsholt asserted that when imprisoned GI's refused to give Miss Gillars interviews for use in her broadcasts, she told them:

"You are most ungrateful Americans. You will regret this."

Blames Marshall For Red Victories Scored In China

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—(INS)—A leading Chinese Catholic priest asserted today that Gen. George C. Marshall must be blamed for the communist victories which threaten to deliver most of China to the hammer and sickle of bolshevism.

The Rev. John T. S. Mao, chancellor of the archdiocese of Nanking, declared in Washington that the ill-fated mission to China Marshall undertook before he became secretary of state caused the present gravely chaotic situation.

Harrisburg Has $300,000 Blaze

HARRISBURG, Feb. 18.—(INS)—A general alarm fire today swept a four-story building on the rim of Harrisburg's business district causing damage estimated at $300,000.

The building housed the Harrisburg Motor Parts Co., a branch of Columbia Records and the Apex Appliance Co. Some equipment was carried to the street but water damage was high.

Firemen poured tons of water on the blazing building during a two-hour battle. All available equipment from Harrisburg and suburban West Shore communities were summoned to minimize the fire area in the congested section of the city.

Eight Break GOP Vote Ranks

Cast Vote Against Gasoline Tax Raise In State Legislature—Brice Is One

OTHER NEWS OF STATE AFFAIRS

HARRISBURG, Feb. 18.—(INS)—One of politics most effective weapon, threatened retaliation, reportedly was brought into play to bring reluctant Republican House members in line for the showdown vote on the one-cent gasoline tax increase...GOP lawmakers known to oppose the measure allegedly were told that their stand might possibly be interpreted as disinterest in any immediate highway improvement in their respective districts...House Majority Leader Hiram G. Andrews (D) Cambria, referred to the matter when he charged from the floor that Republicans had been "told bluntly" they "couldn't come back here" unless they supported the gas tax increase...Eight Republicans broke ranks to vote against the measure...They were Reps. James C. Brice, Lawrence; Warner M. Depuy, Pike; Daniel H. Erb and Harold G. Miller, both of Blair; Edwin C. Ewing, Allegheny; John H. McKinney, Venango; Charles R. Reagan, Union; and Francis Worley, Adams...

Worley, a House member since 1943, once again demonstrated his independence of the administrative viewpoint by opposing both the gas tax and re-enactment of the soft drinks levy...He was the only Republican to express his disapproval from the floor and in fact led the initial tirade against the gasoline increase...But despite strong Democratic support his proposals to re-refer the bill to committee pending public hearings and to exempt gasoline used on farms, were defeated...In the 1947 session, Worley stood as the only legislator to vote "No" on salary increases for judges.

The State Department of Revenue has compiled some initial statsitics showing that Pennsylvania's highway fatality average is far below the national level....Pennsylvania comprises approximately one thirteenth of the nation's population yet its contribution to the national highway fatality toll was one-twentieth...There were roughly 32,000 highway deaths last year of which 1,555 were reported in Pennsylvania, according to the deparitment...To extend the comparison further, the department said "the national population death rate for 1948 was 21.9 deaths per 100,000 people, while Pennsylvania's rate was only 14.5 deaths per 100,000 people."...The death toll is to be reduced under ambitious plans for road safety drafted by the highway safety council.

The seating capacity of the House of Representative is so limited that space is at a minimum and members have barely enough room at their desks to attend to legislative business...Waste baskets cannot be used because of the limited facilities and consequently members throw on the floor all the useless material they receive in the mail or via messengers...When a session ends, the floor is littered with paper...But thanks to a corps of char women, the House chamber is spotless when members return the following day...In the more austere Senate, wastebaskets are provided.

Sen. Frederick B. Homsher, (R) Lancaster holds the championship so far for introducing the biggest bill...It is a 559-page school code The best the House has been able to do has been a 460-page bill proposing revision of the first class township code...It was co-sponsored by four members.

American-British Observers Killed As Plane Crashes

ATHENS, Feb. 18.—(INS)—The Greek government announced today that an American pilot and a British army observer have been killed in a plane crash near Florina.

They were identified as Lt. William Wagner of the USAF and Lt. Col. Good of the British army. Florina, in northern Greece, has been the scene of recent government-guerrilla clashes.

Earlier, the body of another American killed in a plane crash, left Hellinikon airport near Athens for Germany and the United States.

Military Honors

An aide of King Paul placed a wreath on the coffin of Lt. Col. Selden Edner, former American liaison officer.

Full military honors were given the deceased U. S. flyer.

Edner, a native of San Jose, California, was shot down by Greek communist guerrillas on Jan. 21 while flying in an unarmed plane near the rebel-held town of Karpenissi.

His body was later brought back to Athens.

A rebel broadcast charged that Edner had machine-gunned the town when he was shot down.

However, an American colonel who conducted an inquiry into the Edner case, said that the belief was that Edner was alive when his plane was forced down, and was "brutally killed on the spot" by guerrillas.

The officer said that Edner's head had been beaten and crushed beyond recognition.

Urges Invitation To Gen. MacArthur To Give Testimony

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—(INS)—Sen. Knowland (R) Calif., called on the Senate Armed Services committee Thursday to invite Gen. Douglas MacArthur home to testify on the Far Eastern military situation and American defense policy.

Knowland made his request in a letter to Sen. Tydings (D) Md., committee chairman. The letter said:

"In view of recent press dispatches that have cast some doubt on our Pacific military policy and the demand that will soon be made on the Congress for military assistance to Western Europe, I believe that it is vital that members of the Armed Services committee be fully informed on all phases of the entire global situation.

"For this reason I strongly urge that the Senate Armed Services committee extend an invitation to Gen. Douglas MacArthur to return to the United States to present his views of the situation existing in the Far East and its effect upon the national defense of the United States and its territories."

Says Plans For New W.P.A. Developing

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—(INS)—Rep. Brown (R) Ohio, declared today that "plans are already well developed" for a new works progress program to cope with growing unemployment.

For the second successive day, Republicans warned in the house that unemployment is growing in the nation and threatened to bring on what Rep. Wilson (R) Ind., called the "Truman depression".

Democrats scoffed at the Republicans' charges. Rep. Buckley (D) Ill., said whatever unemployment exists is only "temporary", part of it due to the fact that new contracts are being negotiated.

Eats 76 Oysters In Ten Minutes

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Feb. 18.—(INS)—A 16-year-old University of Michigan freshman who bet he could eat 60 oysters—but couldn't—today met a young man who can.

Donald J. Brown lost the bet when he ate only 49 oysters.

The Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity heard about Brown's attempt. It invited the freshman to compete with one of its members, then stood back to collect bets.

Charles F. Porter became the half-shell hero of the campus by consuming 76 oysters in 10 minutes and then eating a heavy meal.

Hear Complaints On Assessments

Shenango Township Residents Express Resentment At Assessment ment Raises

OTHER NEWS OF COURT HOUSE HILL

Members of the Board of County Commissioners, sitting as a Board of Revision and Court of Appeals, heard complaints of 17 Shenango township residents Thursday when they expressed their indignation over recent increases in their assessments. A few complaints were received from other districts but most of the complaints came from this area.

Some of the discussions became quite heated and the remarks rather pointed at times.

After hearing the complaints the commissioners promised to go out and view the properties in question and will hand down their decision in the matter at a later date.

Mr. Nelson asks for damages to the car of $227.41, while Miss Davies seeks damages for personal injury in the sum of $500.

Ernest N. Christly of 505 North Cedar street, seeks damages in the sum of $6,450 from Matthew Leivo as the result of a colision on Route 18, in Union township, in which the plaintiff charges the defendant was careless and negligent, running into the back end of his car on December 13, 1948.

Easter Seal Campaign Chairman Appointed

HARRISBURG, Feb. 18.—(INS)—William C. Arthur, Pittsburgh advertising executive, today was named state campaign chairman of the 1949 Easter seal campaign by the Pennsylvania Society of Crippled Children and Adults.

The month-long sale, beginning March 17, is designed to raise $400,000 for the society's work in helping more than 30,000 crippled children and handicapped adults.

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

When Lauritz Melchoir first secured a leave of absence from the Metropolitan to sing in a film, he rendered a few numbers at a party hosted by Norma Shearer. An agent drew him aside later and said, "Say, fella, you got a fine pair of pipés. Sign with me and I'll guarantee you a future in the flickers."

Melchior eyed him coldly and said, "My name happens to be Lauritz Melchior." "So what?" answered the agent unabashed. "We can change that easily enough."

An English wit (maybe it was Joe Miller) once declared that he could make a spontaneous pun about any subject the company present could offer. "All right," spoke up one gentleman, "Let us have a pun about the king." Without hesitation, the wit pointed out, "The king is not a subject."

Prince Philip Fast Becoming Style Setter

(International News Service)

LONDON, Feb. 18.—Prince Philip, Duke of Edinburgh, is rapidly earning a reputation as one of Britain's foremost stylesetters.

The prince, husband of Princess Elizabeth, was reported today to have ruffled the dignity of aristocratic British tailors by giving them a few points on how to dress.

The occasion was the British Master Tailors' Benevolent Association banquet in London.

Philip was guest of honor, and he arrived correctly attired in a full evening dress, white ties, tails and a row of miniature medals above his "Knight of the Garter" insignia.

Some Consternation

More than half of the tailors who attended the dinner found to their consternation that they were dressed rather differently from the guest of honor.

Their invitation cards said "evening dress with decorations," but in the belief that the Duke would wear a tuxedo, the tailors did likewise.

After being introduced as "a perfect example of how a Briton should be dressed on all occasions," Philip proceeded to lecture the tailors as follows:

"Every man probably wants to start a fashion, but most men have a tailor and the greatest enemy to starting a fashion is a man's tailor.

"I think your greatest contribution as tailors is to make comfortable clothes. You may make clothes, but we have to wear them."

More Than 300 Hunting Child Lost In Woods

READING, Pa., Feb. 18.—(INS)—More than 300 police and volunteers searched through woodlands around nearby Laureldale today for missing three-year-old William Abbott.

The child strayed from his backyard yesterday afternoon and was last seen by school children whom he had followed to a former ski run in Laureldale park.

In the ensuing hunt, firemen of four communities focussed their spotlights across fields and woods in the vicinity. Sound amplifiers were also used to magnify calls for the boy.

The volunteer searchers were called into action by messages sent through a public address system by Rev. Mark K. Trexler, Lutheran pastor.

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

By DR. ERNEST G. OSBORNE

"Just Wait Until Your Father Comes Home!"

Exasperated mothers through the years have used Papa as a threat to disobedient or otherwise rambunctious children. Sometimes the threat has been an idle one; at other times he is supposed to dispense punishment that is more impressive than that which Mother can give.

Though one can admit that mothers often may be at their wit's ends with a number of lively children at their heels, there is a real question whether the "wait until your father comes home" approach is desirable.

First of all, especially with young children, discipline so far removed in time from the situation which seemed to call for it is not likely to be effective. More often than not the youngsters will feel that it is unfair. Then, too, Dad becomes merely a tool—a kind of spanking machine or a blind giver of "justice".

Most important of all, perhaps, is the fact that to make of him a threat may very well develop a kind of fear and dislike on the part of the children that is anything but what we want them to feel for their fathers.

School Districts Discuss Tuition

Mahoning Township And Bessemer Boards Have Meeting Thursday Evening

Members of the school boards of Bessemer borough and Mahoning Township, had a meeting in Hillsville Thursday evening, when the matter of tuition costs was discussed.

Most of Mahoning township's high school students go to Bessemer high school, and the meeting was arranged in an effort to work out some way in which the tuition costs may be reduced.

J. K. Bowman, of the Department of Public Instruction was present, and suggested to the two boards that a joint school be established.

Last night's meeting was more on the informative side, the two boards getting together to receive information on the matter, and no action was taken.

Good Taste

By FRANCINE MARKEL

LEARN TO PULL YOUR PUNCHES

A good conversational rule to follow is: If you can't say something pleasant, keep quiet."

In other words, learn to pull your punches. Don't let yourself go when you have thoughts that would be better left unspoken.

Your best friend buys a new hat. She values your opinion because she is your best friend. She asks you how you like it. After she has paid good money for it and it is hers for better or worse, don't make her life miserable by being too frank if you really dislike it.

Of course, if you go with her to select new clothes and she asks your opinion, express it freely. After the purchase has been made the matter changes considerably. She has spent her money and made her choice which she must have considered a wise one. Then you come along with your criticism and zoom go her spirits and temporarily at least, her admiration for you. A little white lie, in a case such as this, is more admirable.

Most of us would have more friends and popularity if we exercised tongue control. We speak without first thinking. We utter things that hurt...sometimes with premeditation...through anger...jealousy and many other petty reasons.

If you have this inclination, stop and think before you offer destructive criticism—destructive to your popularity at any rate.

Question: My daughter-in-law calls me "Mrs. Jones". Should I sign myself that way in letters to her?

Answer: Sign letters to her "Mary Jones" or whatever your full name is. Never sign yourself "Mrs. Jones".

Present your problems to Miss Markel who will promptly send personal replies to questions from readers inclosing stamped, addressed envelopes.

H. C. Breese Dies At Home In Butler

H. C. Breese, 112 Mackey avenue, Butler, died Thursday evening at his home after a year's illness, according to a message, received by local friends.

Mr. Breese operated the Fulton-Breese laboratory in New Castle until 1931, when he moved to Butler to manage the Breese laboratory.

Survivors include his widow, the former Miss Vera Windl; two children, James Breese, Annapolis, Md., and Miss Ellen Breese, at home; one sister, Helen, New York City, and a brother in Tennessee.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

SCHOOLS ARE CLOSED

GLOUCESTER, N. J., Feb. 18.—(INS)—Authorities today closed all elementary schools in Gloucester after an outbreak of scarlet fever.

The shut-down was ordered for a "few days" after an undetermined number of children were stricken.

Hold Wampum Man In Numbers Case

Charles S. Scott, R. D. 1, Wampum, was arrested at Wampum avenue and Fifth street, Ellwood City, on February 17, at 7 a. m., by Charles D. Ross, county detective, and members of the Ellwood City police department.

Scott was searched and there was found on his person $19.90 in numbers slips, and $260.58 in cash, according to the arresting officers.

He was arraigned before Michael S. Cirelli, justice of the peace, pleaded guilty, was held for court, and released on $1000 bail.

New Castle High Quintet At Farrell Tonight For Section Tilt

Hope To Upset Steelers Again

Win Over Sharon Peps Up Passers, Season Ends Here Next Tuesday With Ellwood

New Castle High basketball team will play the Farrell Steelers at the spacious Farrell gym tonight. This is a section three tilt.

Fresh from the stunning upset of Sharon, the Castles will be eager to add Farrell to the list of victims for the second time this year. New Castle defeated Farrell here earlier this year, 43 to 37, with Don Reed having 19 points.

Reed Top Scorer

At the present time Reed has a total of 176 points in league play, and leads the Section Three scorers by a wide margin. Janicki of Ambridge is the closest rival with 126 points, followed by Zernich of Aliquippa and Liebendorfer of Beaver Falls.

If the George Thomas coached machine plays the same type of ball tonight they did against the Tigers Tuesday, the locals will have little trouble with the Farrells, although the big floor at Farrell bothers the New Castle, or has in other years.

New Castle and Farrell each have identical section three records this year—three wins and seven losses, being tied with Ellwood City for the sixth position.

Same Starting Five

Coach Thomas has not intimated a starting lineup, but is expected to follow through with the same five that started the Sharon game, with Don Picirillo and Dick Lewis looking after the forward jobs, Don Reed at the pivot and Phil Conti and Tony Cialella at the defense posts. Young Ray Latsko who played such a fine game when used last Tuesday will see action, it was intimated. Latsko a sophomore will be a valuable man for next year, with Piccirillo, Conti and Cialella leaving.

New Castle will end its 1949 basketball card at the Washington High gym next Tuesday meeting their county rivals Ellwood City.

Arrangements are complete for an exhibition night game May 16 between the world champion Cleveland Indians and the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Rivals Dominate Section 23 Card

Three Games On Tap For Final Night Of League Competition; Mounties At Bessemer

Basketball makes its exit tonight in the county high schools.

Three games with lots of crowd appeal are on tap. Princeton and East Brook have already completed their season, the game between East Brook and Princeton having been cancelled.

Rivalries as old as county interscholastic competition dominate the scene and a very close contest looms in each case.

Section 23 champs, Mt. Jackson, square off against Bessemer on the latter's home court. The game has been sold out for quite some time and rumor has scalper's prices prevailing. The Mounties took Bessemer 80 to 55 in their first encounter but Willie Ciccone has had his Cementers going great guns since that time. The Red and Black owns victories over both New Wilmington and Wampum this half and have been pointing for the Mountie contest. Bessemer can clinch a tie for second place by winning tonight, while the Webster five is sure of a playoff berth irregardless of the result.

Wampum plays at New Wilmington, with second place at stake. These two clubs often battle it out for first place around this time, but the Mounties beat them to it this year. However, a good basketball game between two fine teams, with the result a toss up, will pack the Community house for the Greyhounds' final appearance.

Shenango (6-7) is at Union (5-8). The Wildcats took the Chuck James quintet 42 to 38 on Shenango's floor and if they can repeat tonight, the fifth place spot in the league will be their prize. A Union win would result in a fifth place tie. These bitter, cross-county rivals have a habit of putting on an action-packed brand of basketball that makes crowds frantic with excitement. Tonight's game should be no exception.

Westinghouse Clips K. Pulaski 69 To 51

Westinghouse of Sharon handed K. Pulaski its fifth loss of the current cage campaign last night at K. P. hall. The final score favored the visitors 69 to 51.

Garay was high man for the winners with 22 points.

Pat Patterson and Ed Ryczaj split 24 for the Kay Pees.

The "Big Five" will play Ecclesian club at K. P. hall at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

HICKORY FIREMEN TO TRY IT AGAIN SATURDAY NIGHT

Arrange Floor Benefit At East Brook For Injured Arnold McConnell

The recent Hickory Township Volunteer Fireman basketball game at the East Brook High floor drew such "rave" notices that the boys have decided to do it all over again—and come Saturday (the night of the bath) they will stage another Arabian nightmare game at 7 o'clock.

Only this time it's to be a benefit for a casualty of the first encounter or should we say embroglio, Arnold McConnell who had the misfortune to break his ankle in one of the entanglements.

Legion Vs. Boosters

So this time they will have "Doc Sure Dead" and his assistant on hand to fix up the cripples, if any, just playing it safe.

The teams are the Red Sirens and the Smokey Joes and the first game ended in a deadlock, at least that is what they said at the last accounting a few days ago.

In the main attraction Saturday the New Castle Legion will clash with the East Brook Boosters of the City-County league at 8 o'clock, in what should be a humdinger of a battle. Better plan to see the fun Saturday at EBHS.

Button Again Title Holder

PARIS, Feb. 18.—(INS)—Dick Button, 19-year-old Harvard freshman from Englewood, N. J., was acclaimed today one of the greatest figure skaters of them all.

Button, in winning the world's title last night for the second consecutive year, was given a thunderous ovation by the gallery. His grace and rhythm and all-around brilliance in the free skating was termed one of the greatest exhibitions the event has seen.

Ede Kiraly, of Hungary, was second, and Edi Rada, of Austria, placed third.

In the women's division, Czechoslovakia's Alena Vrzanova was leading the favored Eva Pawlik, of Austria. With Yvonne Sherman of New York third in points. The women engage in the final free skating event today.

Requests Managers Send Reservations

Secretary Jim Martin of the Lawrence County Baseball League asks all managers of the teams to send in their card reservations for the annual Lawrence County league "pow-wow" at the Castleton Hotel Wednesday, February 23, at 6:30 o'clock.

Martin says that all reservation cards should be returned to him not later than Monday. Quite a fine session is being planned.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

SEL-EXPLANATORY LETTER
New Castle, R.D. 1, Feb. 14, 1949

Here & There
Dear Sir:

I like your column, and I like your style of writing, but I must call your hand. On February 12, you said there were no copperhead snakes in Lawrence county, and never was, as far as you knew. In back of Ewing Park, across the river from Ellport, at Wilson's sandstone quarry, 40 or 45 year ago, there were many copperhead snakes. I know of several people who can vouch for the statesment.

Yours truly
(Signed) H. C. BOYER.

Relative to copperheads, Ralph Criswell, former chief of police, now a cruiser car operator, told Here & There yesterday that, some years ago he killed a copperhead near the Old Furnace, at Rose Point bridge.

Mr. Boyer's letter and Policeman Criswell's information puts a different light on the situation, because Here & There said in his Saturday column: "So far as is known, there are no copperheads in the county." Thanks for the information.

COMMENDS BOTH MEN
Bozman, Mont., Feb. 14, 1949

There & There in Sports'Land
Dear Sir:

I read Mr. Grists' letter in your column and he should be commended for his view on the subject, for, or against an Open Doe season. His kind of thinking is too scarce today. I worked 'under' Herman Steinbrink in the fire department in the summer of 1947. His idea of airing the hunters' views is an exellent one. I am a fish and game 'major' at Montana State college and work for the Forest Service in the Clearwater National Forest, in the primitive country of Idaho during the summer months in tree disease work.

Sincerely yours
(Signed ERNEST J. TOTH.

Possibly you do, or do not known Scotty Greig who's "up there", being 73 years old young. He yet walks with the stealth of a cat, and for his years, is decidedly active. Having read where Evan Lewis watched the great John L and Frank Slavin box an exhibition, Scotty, who served in Somaliland, and elsewhere, with the British forces, asked: "Why not tell your readers I met Jem Mace, the bare-knuckle champion of Europe." A little prompting drew from Scotty that Jem was with a carnival taking on all comers, at Falkirk, Sterlingshire, Scotland, where Scotty was born. "While Jem was with the carnival in our town, he ate all his meals in our house," Greig, who then was knee-high-to-a-grasshoper, recalled. Mace claimed the championship in 1861, beat Sam Hurst, then defeated Tom King, but later lost to Tom King, his title going with the fight. After King retired Joe Goss and Mace claimed the toga and Mace won it again in 1866, coming to America on a tour in 1868. After Joe Coburn and he had boxed 12 rounds near St. Louis in 1871, oth left the ring. The fight was called a draw. At the age of 42, Mace quit fighting in 1872.

Brinckos Tied For 8th Place

New York City Team Rolls 2799 For Eighth Place Tie, Locals Lead Boosters

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Feb. 18.—(INS)—The unheralded De Angelis Grill team of Hershey, Pa., powered their way into first place in the five-man event at the 46th annual American bowling championships by 17 points when they rolled up a score of 2,873 last night in Atlantic City's Convention Hall.

Starting with a good 945, the new leaders slipped to 895 in their next one, but came back very strong in the third game to rack up 1,033 points, highest team game in the tournament.

Rolls 669 Series

De Angelis was steadied by their "anchor" man, Byron Robertson, who rolled 213, 225 and 231 for a 669 series. They supplanted the previous leaders, Leon's Tavern of Akron, O., who rolled 2,856 Sunday.

In a night full of good team bowling, Stanley's Men's Shop of New York City bowled their way into sixth place with a 2,807 game, aided by Ralph Aiello's 603 series.

The V. Loria & Sons squad, also from New York City, put together three games of 932, 932 and 935 for a 2,799 total and a tie for eighth position in the team standing with the Brincko Bowling Lanes team of New Castle, Pa.

Other 2,700 games were rolled last night by Greek-American club, Spokane, Wash., 2,770; Romano Bar and Grill, Yonkers, N. Y., 2,764, and New Holland Machine company, New Holland, Pa., 2,716.

Penn State will play host to the intercollegiate boxing championships for the 11th time at State College, Pa., March 11-12.

Joe DiMaggio Has Managerial "Bug"

By LAWTON CARVER
(International News Service Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—Joe DiMaggio's income from the New York Yankees has topped a half million dollars in 13 years, yet he has been in the really big salary brackets for the past couple of years.

At 34, just a year or two removed from the finish of his remarkable career as an outfielder and hitter, he has acquired his all-time highest contract—$90,000—and an eventual chance to manage the club, if he decides against entering private business.

Question Arises

Whether he will ever make a standout major league manager is a question on many of our better baseball minds, for they wonder how good he would be at driving a ball club or coddling his players or conning them.

As a player, he lifts the Yankees by his example, but that is somewhat different from sitting on the bench and getting that same lift through conversation, which is not one of the Clipper's strongest points. He is a kindly, thoughtful fellow who listens well most of the time and is content to let his performance in the clutch speak for him. That's loud enough.

He also may be a whirlwind as a manager one of these days and may get the chance to stay with the Yankee organization which has been the only outfit he's known since he came up from 'Frisco in 1936.

In the intervening years he has been in seven World Series including four in a row starting with his first year in the big time. Yankee officials are quick to admit that in most of those seasons DiMaggio was the difference between the Yankees landing in the big fall classic or missing it.

He has been lucky in some ways and unlucky in others. He has been in as many World Series as four leading contemporary standout attractions all put together.

These are Lou Boudreau and Bob Feller, both of Cleveland, and Ted Williams, of Boston, in one series each, and Stan Musial, of St. Louis, in four.

Plagued by Injuries

On the hard luck side, DiMaggio has had more than one player's share of injuries. He also has been topped in salary by Feller and Williams, although the Clipper has been playing with one of the most successful clubs in baseball history.

This doesn't mean that the Yankees have pauperized him, but they have never gone all out in the liberal fashion of the Red Sox or Indians in behalf of Williams and Feller, respectively.

Great Drawing Card

Yet he has been one of the game's great drawing cards, among its greatest competitiors and—with injuries or in sound health—a tremendous ball player who day in and day out has given his dead level best on every swing or run.

Last Night's Ring Results

At Akron — Ronnie Delaney, 144½, Akron, knocked out Joey Carkido, 140, Youngstown, in second of scheduled eight-round bout.

At Akron—Freddie Schott of Akron, 201½, gained technical KO over Shamus O'Brien, 180, New York, in last round of six-rounder.

At Akron—Rizieri Ronzi, 197, Youngstown, kayoed Tommy Woodward, 181, Columbus in first round of 8-rounder.

Dickson Signs, Lombardi Balks

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 18.—(INS)—Pitcher Lombardi is not satisfied with the terms offered him this year by the Pittsburgh Pirates—he had returned his contract today unsigned.

At the same time, Pitcher Murray Dickson, who the Bucs got from the St. Louis Cardinals, returned his inked contract which calls for at least $15,000 remuneration.

Lombardi declared he definitely was not a holdout, however. He said he will report to spring training at San Bernardino, Calif., on February 28 to discuss the matter with Manager Roy Hamey.

Cincinnati Five Downs Duquesne

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 18.—(INS)—Cincinnati university today held a 58-50 "surprise" victory over Duquesne university.

The Duquesne crew went down to its first home defeat of the season Thursday night at the Gardens in Pittsburgh.

The Buckeye passers held a 25-23 edge after a tight first half, which saw two deadlocks at 8-8 and 19-19. After two more deadlocks in the second stanza, 25-25 and 27-27, the visitors pushed ahead to take the game.

Slovaks Arrange Baseball Party

GROVERS PLAY BUFFALO STATE

GROVE CITY, Feb. 18.—Grove City's passers show before the home fans for the first time since January 14, when they host Buffalo State Friday evening. Swimmers from the New York school meet the Grovers in a matinee competition.

With Clarion's floor team due here next Wednesday, the Grovers have excellent prospects of improving their season record, already the most promising in recent years. Coach Jim Loveless figures that the heavy end of the schedule has been completed, although expecting trouble in several spots.

Turnesa Leading Houston Tourney

HOUSTON, Tex., Feb. 18.—(INS)—Jim Turnesa of Briarcliff, N. Y., held a slim one-stroke lead today as the second round of the $10,000 Houston open golf tournament got under way.

The member of the famed golfing Turnesa family fired a six-under-par 66 on the first 18 holes to head Johnny Palmer of Badin, N. C., and George Schoux of San Francisco, who were bracketed at 67.

Tied at 68 at the end of yesterday's opening round were E. J. (Dutch) Harrison of Albuquerque, N. M.; Bob Hamilton of Landover, Md., and Les Kennedy of Pawtucket, R. I.

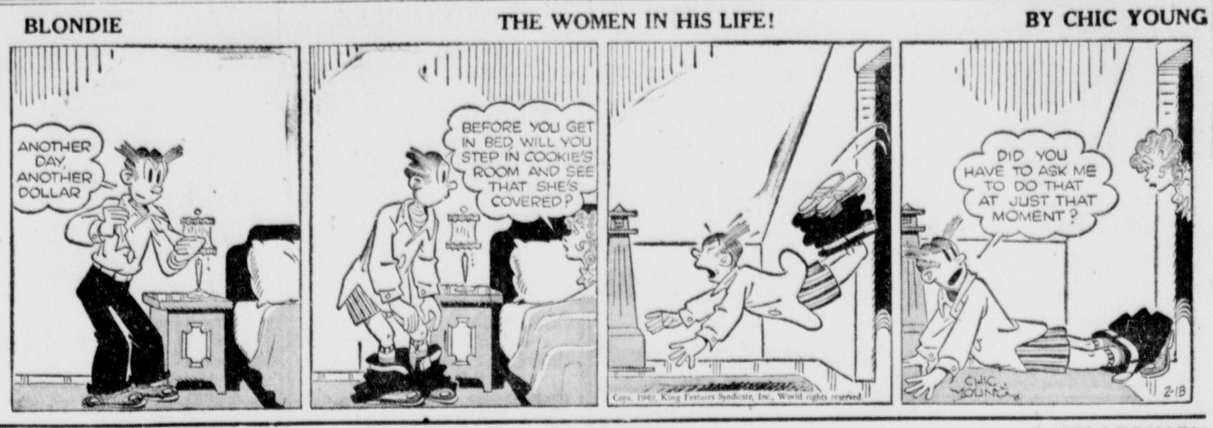

STENGEL WILL TRY BROWN AT FIRST

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—(INS)—Casel Stengel, new manager of the New York Yankees, announced today that he will try utility Infielder Bobby Brown at first base.

Brown, who also is a pinch hitter extraordinary, was used mostly at other infield positions last season. In one brief tryout at first base he was far from impressive, but Stengel says that this year, he will try Bobby out at the initial sack right off the reel.

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—(INS)—The New York Stock Market displayed mixed tendencies in early dealings today. Few important price changes were noted in the run of active favorites, although a few issues were in demand.
